Deadline for advance registration is Oct. 14, 2009.

Let's make Mandalas. In this workshop we will learn about the construction and uses of the healing art known as Mandala. A Mandala is simply art that is based on the circle. The New Moon (a circle, you might say) in October is on the 18th. This is a perfect time to learn about and create a personal Mandala. Discover the meaning and wisdom that the circle holds for you. Join us to create art and explore its personal meaning to you in a safe environment.

All art materials will be provided.

Previous art experience is not needed in order to benefit from this art, healing, and creativity program--these workshops are designed for all ranges of artistic experience--you need not consider yourself an "artist" to attend.

Facilitator Susan Boyes provides art therapy to people recovering from traumatic brain injury and other challenges. She works part time at a Traumatic Brain Injury rehabilitation center and runs her own private art therapy practice. She received her Master's in Art Therapy at Southwestern College in Santa Fe, NM.

A Board Certified Art Therapist, Susan is a Licensed Professional Counselor in the state of Michigan.
